DISPUTE RESOLUTION:

Grievance Procedures

The parties to this contract recognise that from time to time individual observers may have grievances that need to be resolved in the interest of good relationships.

Objective:

It is the objective of this Health Service to ensure that grievances are resolved by negotiation and discussion between the parties.

An observer will have the right for a grievance to be heard through all levels of management.

Procedure:

- (a) In the first instance, the observer shall attempt to resolve the grievance with his/her immediate supervisor. The local union representative shall be present if desired by either party.
- (b) If the observer still feels aggrieved, then the matter shall be referred to his/her Department Head. The local union representative shall be present if desired by either party.
- (c) If the observer still feels aggrieved, then the matter shall be referred to his/her Divisional Director. The local union representative shall be present if desired by either party.

- (d) If the grievance is still unresolved, the matter shall be referred to the Chief Executive Officer and the senior local or state branch union representative.
- (e) If the grievance is still unresolved then the state branch union representative shall be advised and a meeting arranged. At this stage the employer's representative shall be advised and shall be represented at the request of either party.
- (f) It is agreed steps (i) to (v) shall take place within seven days.
- (g) If the grievance still exists the matter shall be referred to the Australian Industrial Relations Commission for a decision.
- (h) Until the grievance is determined, work shall continue normally in accordance with the custom or practice existing before the grievance arose while discussions take place. No party shall be prejudiced as to the final settlement by the continuance of work.
 - a. Health and safety matters are exempted from this clause.

Disciplinary Procedures:

- (a) Where disciplinary action is necessary, the management representative shall notify the observer of the reason. The first warning shall be verbal and will be recorded on the observer's personnel file. A union representative shall be present if desired by either party.
- (b) If the problem continues the matter will be discussed with the observer and a second warning in writing will be given to her/him and recorded on her/his personnel file.
 - a. A union representative shall be present if desired by either party.
- (c) If the problem continues the observer will be seen again by management. If a final warning is to be given then it shall be issued in writing and a copy sent to the relevant union.
 - a. A union representative shall be present if desired by either party.
- (d) In the event of the matter recurring, then the observer may be terminated. No dismissals are to take place without the authority of senior management.
- (e) Dismissal of an observer may still occur for acts of "serious and wilful misconduct."
- (f) If a dispute should arise over the disciplinary action, the course of action to be followed is that the matter shall be referred to the Commission for resolution. Such resolution shall be accepted by the parties as final.
- (g) If after any warning, a period of twelve months elapses without any further warnings or action being required, all adverse reports relating to the warning must be removed from the observer's personnel file.
- (h) Employers will formulate policies and practices in accordance with these procedures, which shall be circulated to all observers throughout the Health Service, and which shall be translated into other language groups.
- (i) All new observers shall be handed a copy of these procedures on commencement of employment.

OTHER CONDITIONS:

Observers are required to:

- (a) support the Mission, Goals and Values of the Health Service.
- (b) abide by, and ensure that they are familiar with the policies and procedures set down by the Health Service.
