DISCLAIMER

This report is provided solely for use by the client with the understanding the tenets of the Fair Credit Reporting Act and other International (Including the GDPR and other Country laws) Federal, State and Local statutes apply. The information was obtained from courts and other public records. National record status is unknown and positive identification requires fingerprints, if available. The accuracy of this information can not be guaranteed as it depends on the information supplied by client and the accuracy of the public record. Not responsible for errors and omissions.

If a criminal enquiry was made to the court, police force or Government agency referenced here it was conducted by AIS, its assigned subprocessor or its official country representative on the completion date of this report*. We believe the record is true and correct and reflective of all current records held by the referenced named entity from the date of this report and all prior years made publically available. All reasonable means to verify the accuracy and completeness of the information has been made. Depending on the legislative framework of the above jurisdiction, the enquiry will have been made directly by AIS where permissible to do so or through the use of its approved representatives.

*Dependent on international time zones and working hours of agents, courts, police forces and government departments there may be some time differences between receiving the information from the record source/agent and the completion of the report. This period would not normally exceed 24 hours.
